Kaitlen D.More Fun Fox Crafts: So here we are – again, with a guest post on Party Delights! This week we made a Fantastic Mr Fox Mask – perfect for all Roald Dahl fans, planning crafts and activities for World Book Day. We love dressing a Fantastic Mr. Fox, as kids can wear normal clothes (or beautiful clothes, as The Fantastic Mr. Fox likes to dress smartly) and then just add the mask as a finishing touch. Perfect for those shy kids on World Book Day!! These masks were made of cereal boxes (everyone, have one, right?) and it would also be great for Mardi Gras or any other fancy dress occasion! Hope you like it too! If you're looking for more autumn crafts for kids, look no further! We also have a great set of Seamless Costumes for you to take a peak off First published in February 2015 and updated for your convenience! Originally shared on Party Delights. You can do it from something as simple as an empty cereal box, and we even create a printable stencil to help make your life easier. Let's get started! What you'll need An empty cereal box (at least A4 in size)Our Fantastic Printed Stencil Mr. Fox stencilsRed, yellow, white and black inkA brush/leiaScissorsA piece of rope or elastic large enough to the mask in place How to make your fox mask Cut your mask pieces Print your stencils and track them on the side of your cereal box. Cut them perfectly. Carefully drill a hole on each side of the round part of the mask model and place its rubber band or rope in place. Fold the fox's nose Look at the mask nose and fold the card along the dotted dotted as shown below. To finish the nose, cut the two black slits that you can see on your model and fold the card into place. Now it should look like this: mount the fox mask Now it's time to glue your mask into place. You need to glue the folded sections of the nose you made in Step 3, and attach the round piece of cardboard on the back of the piece that has the nose, ears and whiskers, as you can see below. A hot glue gun is ideal for this job (adults only, obviously), but if you don't have one, just use a couple of stakes of clothes to hold your mask while it dries. Paint your fox mask with your mask made, now it's time to start painting! Start by painting some white on the bottom of your fox's face. Then mix red and yellow to get a vibrant, foxy orange! We suggest that you deliberately did not mix yellow and orange entirely. We think this gives your fox mask a little texture! When everything is dry, finish the mask by painting the tip of Mr. Fox's nose black. When World Book Day arrives, you can simply wear this mask with some smart clothes. If it's more last minute DIY ideas than you're after, we have many of those too! More World Book Day fantasy ideas.
